The Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience publishes original research articles and review papers in clinical psychiatry (adult and child) and neuroscience that relate to major psychiatric disorders, particularly schizophrenia, affective disorders and neurodegenerative diseases. The journal therefore provides a forum for original basic and clinical science research that will present its readership with an integrated perspective on current and emerging issues in clinical and biological psychiatry. In this respect, the Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience represents a new and unique concept in communication that will bring together the latest advances in both psychiatry and neuroscience.

La Revue de psychiatrie & de neuroscience publie des articles de recherches originales et des examens critiques en psychiatrie clinique (adulte et infantile) et en neuroscience, qui portent sur d'importants troubles psychiatriques et en particulier sur la schizophrénie, les troubles affectifs et les maladies neurodégénératives. La revue offre ainsi une tribune où l'on peut présenter des recherches originales en sciences fondamentales et cliniques, et qui exposera à ses lecteurs une perspective intégrée des enjeux courants en psychiatrie clinique et biologique. À cet égard, la Revue de psychiatrie & de neuroscience constitue un concept de communication innovateur des progrès les plus récents réalisés tant en psychiatrie qu'en neuroscience.
